

ROYAL COURT

22nd May, 1987

Before: The Bailiff,

Jurat Bonn,

Jurat Gruchy.

Her Majesty's Attorney General

-v-

European Employment Agency, and

Glenys Mary Stevens

The Solicitor General

Advocate C.J. Dorey for the accused.

Judgment

The Bailiff: The Court considers that the conclusions are right and proper, and the company is therefore fined £1,250 on Infraction 1 and similarly on Infractions 3 and 4, and £100 on Infraction 5 and costs of £250.

Mr. Solicitor, are you able to apply - perhaps our system is defective: perhaps you ought to be able to apply "Sur le champ" for an order arresting or holding the shares or for an order prohibiting the company from disposing of the shares: but I suppose you are not able to do this until you bring an Order of Justice.

Miss Dorey, would you be prepared to give an undertaking.

Advocate Dorey: (Indistinct).

The Bailiff: I'm sure that will be a very helpful suggestion.

The Solicitor-General. (Indistinct).
