

THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNALS

CASE REF: 15657/19

CLAIMANT: Ellen Ann Donnelly

RESPONDENT: Ranga Ratnayaka trading as The Hill Restaurant

DEFAULT JUDGEMENT

The respondent in his response has stated that he does not resist the claimant's claims. Accordingly, I have determined the claims without hearings as follows:

- (A) The claimant's holiday claim is well-founded. It is ordered that the respondent shall pay to the claimant the sum of £157.25 in respect of wages.
- (B) The claimant's notice pay claim is well-founded. It is ordered that the respondent shall pay to the claimant the sum of £136.00 in respect of holiday pay.

This is a relevant decision for the purposes of the Industrial Tribunals (Interest) Order (Northern Ireland) 1990.

Employment Judge: _____

Date decision entered in register and issued to the parties:

_____

For the Secretary of the Tribunals