Sir LUDOVICK GRANT of Grant, Bart. and Others, against ARCHIBALD DUFF
Sheriff-clerk of the County of Elgin.

No 157.

A COMPLAINT was presented by Sir Ludovick Grant, and certain other freeholders, who attended at the last Michaelmas meeting of freeholders for the county of Elgin, which was held the 2d October 1772, charging, that Archibald Duff, acting in the character of Sheriff-clerk of said county, had been guilty of the offence enacted by the 16th of his late Majesty in the instances therein set forth, and, of consequence, had incurred the statutory penalty.

The point on which the merits of the complaint chiefly turned was, whether the trust oath could be legally tendered, (as in fact it was, and refused to be taken, at this meeting), before the choice of the preses and clerk; as, if not, Mr Duff's conduct deserved no blame. In which view, he argued, that the penult clause in the act 7th of the late King, founded on in the complaint, could not be meant to include the case of the trust-oath, which is regulated by a preceding clause of the same statute; and that the oaths spoke of in the penult clause are those appointed by law to be taken by electors in general, including delegates of burghs; which are, the oaths to government, but not the trust-oath, which respects alone the qualification of freeholders.

The judgment which Court gave upon this complaint imported, that the trust-oath was, in this case, legally tendered before the choice of preses and clerk; and that so stood the law. But this judgment was reversed in the House of Lords, March 31st 1773.

No 158.

A person having withdrawn from the court of freeholders, after it was proposed to put the trust-oath to him, the Lords

AT the meeting in 1780, for election of a representative to serve in Parliament for the county of Ayr, Mr Fergusson, a freeholder standing upon the roll, moved, 'That Mr Campbell should take the oath of trust and possession; and required the said Mr Campbell, whom he saw in court, to take the same;' whereupon Mr Campbell withdrew, and Mr Fergusson further moved, 'That, in terms of the act of Parliament, (7th Geo. II. c. 16.) he should forthwith be struck off the roll.'
