LORD SUMNER.

LORD PARMOOR.

LORD WRENBURY.

THE LORD JUSTICE CLERK.

SIR ARTHUR CHANNELL.

[Delivered by LORD SUMNER.]

In this case all the questions, including those relating to the onus of proof, resolve themselves into pure questions of fact. Their Lordships have examined the somewhat complicated circumstances very carefully with the assistance of counsel for the appellants, who have enabled them to appreciate each point as they went along, and they have carefully considered also the judgment of the learned President, Lord Sterndale. They think that no good purpose will be served by reiterating all the circumstances or by re-examining the reasons of the learned President, with which they entirely concur, and they will therefore humbly advise His Majesty that the appeals should be dismissed, with costs.
