(3) Recovery of the appropriate proportion referred to in paragraph (2) may be effected at any time whether or not that proportion has been included in any estimate given under paragraph (4).

(4) Kensington and Chelsea shall by 1st February in each financial year commencing with the year beginning on 1st April 1992 give to each inner London council and the Common Council its best estimate of the sum, if any, to be recovered by it from them under paragraph (2) in the next financial year.

(5) Where expenditure is to be recovered by Kensington and Chelsea under paragraph (2) a demand setting out the appropriate proportion payable by that council shall be served on each inner London council and the Common Council, and if that sum has not been paid within 28 days, or such longer period as may be specified by Kensington and Chelsea, of service of the demand, interest shall be payable thereon calculated at the standard rate on a day to day basis from the end of that period to the date of payment and compounded with 3 monthly rests.

(6) If in any financial year Kensington and Chelsea estimates that any sum set aside as provided in paragraph (1) is not required to meet any relevant expenditure in that or future financial years, such sum shall be apportioned among the inner London councils and the Common Council in the appropriate proportions; and Kensington and Chelsea shall, not later than the end of the financial year in question, pay the appropriate proportion to each of the other inner London councils and the Common Council and shall retain the balance.

(7) As soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each financial year Kensington and Chelsea shall send to each of the other inner London councils and the Common Council a statement showing—

- (a) the total relevant expenditure incurred by it in that financial year;

(24) 1988 c. 41; the current regulations are the Levying Bodies (General) Regulations 1990 (S.I. 1990/70).

14.—(1) All monies vested in Bromley by virtue of this Order and all sums realised by Bromley in consequence of the transfer by virtue of this Order of any property or rights (other than by virtue of article 2(1)(e)) shall after deduction of any relevant expenditure and after setting aside from such monies such amount, if any, as Bromley estimates to be required for future such expenditure, be apportioned among the London borough councils and the Common Council in the appropriate proportions; and Bromley shall, not later than the end of the financial year in which such sums are received, pay the appropriate proportion to each of the other London borough councils and the Common Council and shall retain the balance.

(2) If in any financial year the aggregate in that year of the monies referred to in paragraph (1), after bringing into account any amounts set aside as provided in paragraph (1) and the available balance held under the 1990 Order, is insufficient to meet any relevant expenditure of Bromley for that year, the expenditure shall, to the extent that it is not met from the aggregate, be apportioned among the London borough councils and the Common Council in the appropriate proportions; and the appropriate proportion shall be recoverable by Bromley from each of the other London borough councils and the Common Council.

(3) Recovery of the appropriate proportion referred to in paragraph (2) may be effected at any time whether or not that proportion has been included in any estimate given under paragraph (4).

(4) Bromley shall by 1st February in each financial year commencing with the year beginning on 1st April 1992 give to each London borough council and the Common Council its best estimate of the sum, if any, to be recovered by it from them under paragraph (2) in the next financial year.

(5) Where expenditure is to be recovered by Bromley under paragraph (2) a demand setting out the appropriate proportion payable by that council shall be served on each London borough council and the Common Council, and if that sum has not been paid within 28 days, or such longer period as may be specified by Bromley, of service of the demand, interest shall be payable thereon calculated at the standard rate on a day to day basis from the end of that period to the date of payment and compounded with 3 monthly rests.

(6) If in any financial year Bromley estimates that any sum set aside as provided in paragraph (1) is not required to meet any relevant expenditure in that or future financial years, such sum shall be apportioned among the London borough councils and the Common Council in the appropriate proportions; and Bromley shall, not later than the end of the financial year

Disputes

17.—(1) In the event of a dispute between any councils as to the amount of any sum payable or expenditure recoverable by Kensington and Chelsea or Bromley pursuant to this Order, the matter shall be determined by an arbitrator appointed by the Secretary of State; and section 31 of the Arbitration Act 1950⁽²⁹⁾ shall have effect in relation to the arbitration as if it were an arbitration to which that section applies.

(2) An application to the Secretary of State to appoint an arbitrator must be made within one month of the date that Kensington and Chelsea or Bromley, as the case may be, first gives notice in writing to the council or councils in question stating the amount of the sum payable or expenditure recoverable. If no such application is made the sum payable or expenditure recoverable shall be as stated by Kensington and Chelsea or Bromley as the case may be.

This Order also gives partial effect, with modifications, to proposals submitted by the LRB under the Local Government Act 1985 for the transfer of certain functions, property, rights and liabilities other than those connected with its functions, property, rights and liabilities under the Education Reform Act 1988.

Article 2 provides for the transfer of the interests of the LRB in all land vested in it other than the South Bank property (which consists, amongst other properties, of County Hall).

Article 3 provides for the transfer of property other than land.

Article 4 provides for the transfer of the LRB’s interests in charitable property. Interests acquired under or by virtue of the Education Reform Act 1988 go to Kensington and Chelsea. All other interests go to Bromley. Specific provision is made in relation to the Beaufof Institute.

It also transfers £1,712,755 to the National Rivers Authority representing grant paid to the LRB under section 91 of the Land Drainage Act 1976 (c. 70) pursuant to section 42 of the Thames Barrier and Flood Prevention Act 1972 \(c.xlv\).

Article 6 transfers £230,000 to the council of the London Borough of Lambeth to be used for expenditure incurred in the running of the Beaufof Institute. £500,000 is transferred to the LPFA to be used for defraying expenditure incurred on or in connection with functions, rights and liabilities vested in the LPFA by this Order and previous orders involving the transfer of compensation functions.

The LRB retains £1 million for defraying expenditure incurred by it on and after 1st October 1992 and £20.6 million for defraying expenditure incurred in respect of rights and liabilities conferred by the Rates and Precepts (Final Adjustments) Order 1991.

All other monies representing the LRB’s inner London revenue and capital accounts, with certain specified exceptions, go to Kensington and Chelsea.

Articles 7, 8 and 9 transfer to the LPFA the LRB’s functions, rights and liabilities in relation to staff compensation and superannuation, employer liability and employee claims for personal injury and damage to property which have not already transferred to the LPFA under the London Residuary Body (Transfer of Compensation Functions) Order 1991 or the Education (London Residuary Body) (Transfer of Compensation Functions) Order 1992.

Article 10 transfers the LRB’s residual property, rights and liabilities excluding the South Bank property, the Pits for the disposal of Waste at Stone, Dartford in Kent and those under the Rates and Precepts (Final Adjustments) Order 1991.

Article 11 transfers the LRB’s records to the council or body to whom the functions to which they relate are transferred. All remaining records vest in the Common Council of the City of London.

Article 12 transfers the LRB’s functions under the Education Reform Act 1988 to Kensington and Chelsea and all its remaining functions, with specified exceptions in the main relating to the South Bank property, to Bromley. Functions relating to the levying or the borrowing of money are excluded from transfer. The LRB may continue to exercise the functions transferred concurrently with Kensington and Chelsea and Bromley until 31 December 1992.

Articles 13 and 14 provide how Kensington and Chelsea and Bromley should apportion monies vested in, or realised by, them by virtue of this Order and how they should apportion expenditure which cannot be met from such monies.
