- (h) Schedule 5 (investigatory powers etc.) to the extent not already in force;
- (i) Schedules 6 and 7; and
- (j) Schedule 8 (private actions in competition law) to the extent not already in force.

Provisions coming into force on 6th April 2016

4. For the purpose of a contract to supply a consumer transport service the following provisions of the Act come into force on 6th April 2016, subject to the transitional provisions and savings in article 6—

- (a) section 48(1) to (4) (contracts covered by this Chapter);
- (b) sections 49 to 59; and
- (c) paragraphs 2 to 6, 10 to 17 and 21 to 27 of Schedule 4.

Consequential amendments

5. The consequential amendments in Schedules 1 and 2 have effect.

(a) OJ No L 343, 14.12.2012, p32.

Transitional and saving provisions in respect of Parts 1 and 2 of the Act

6.—(1) The provisions brought into force by sub-paragraphs (a) to (c) and (g) of article 3 of this Order do not apply to—

- (a) any contract entered into before 1st October 2015 which would, apart from these provisions, be covered by Parts 1 or 2 of the Act; and
- (b) any notice provided or communicated before 1st October 2015 which would, apart from these provisions, constitute a consumer notice and be covered by Part 2 of the Act;

(2) The provisions brought into force by article 4 of this Order do not apply to any contract to supply a consumer transport service entered into before 6th April 2016.

(3) The amendments to the law enacted by the Sale and Supply of Goods to Consumers Regulations 2002(a) continue to have effect in relation to any contract specified in paragraph (1)(a) despite the revocation of those Regulations by paragraph 53 of Schedule 1 to the Act.

(4) The Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999(b) continue to have effect in relation to any contract or notice relating to any contract specified in paragraph (1)(a) provided or communicated before 1st October 2015 despite the revocation of those Regulations by paragraph 34 of Schedule 4 to the Act.

(5) The amendments made to the enactments specified in Schedule 1 to this Order do not apply to any contract or notice to which the transitional provisions of this article apply.

Transitional provision in respect of premium rate services

7. The amendments made by section 80 of the Act do not apply in respect of a contravention of a code approved under section 121 of the Communications Act 2003(c), directions given in accordance with such a code or an order made under section 122 of the Communications Act 2003 where that contravention occurs or begins before the commencement of section 80.

Transitional and saving provisions in respect of investigatory powers

8.—(1) This article applies where—

- (a) a provision (“the old provision”) is repealed by Schedule 6 to the Act or revoked by Schedule 2 to this Order, and
- (b) a provision of Schedule 5 to the Act (investigatory powers etc.) (“the new provision”) re-enacts, with or without modification, the old provision.

(2) The repeal or revocation mentioned in paragraph (1)(a) and the re-enactment mentioned in paragraph (1)(b) do not affect the continuity of the law.

(3) Paragraph (2) does not apply to any change in the law made by Schedule 5 to the Act.

(4) A reference, express or implied, in an enactment, instrument or document to the new provision is, subject to its context, to be read as being or including a reference to the old provision, in relation to times, circumstances or purposes in relation to which the old provision had effect.

(5) A reference, express or implied, in any enactment, instrument or document to the old provision is, subject to its context, to be read as being or including a reference to the new provision, in relation to times, circumstances or purposes in relation to which the new provision has effect.

(6) Anything done, or having effect as if done, under (or for the purposes of or in reliance on) the old provision, and in force or effective immediately before 1st October 2015, has effect on and after 1st October 2015 as if done under (or for the purposes of or in reliance on) the new provision.

(a) S.I. 2002/3045.

(b) S.I. 1999/2083, amended by S.I. 2001/1186, 2001/3649, 2004/2095, 2013/472, 2013/783 and 2014/549.

(c) 2003 c.21.

(7) Paragraphs (2) to (6) have effect in place of section 17(2) of the Interpretation Act 1978; but nothing in this Order affects any other provision of that Act.

(8) For the purposes of enforcing the Pyrotechnic Articles (Safety) Regulations 2015(a), the Consumer Protection Act 1987(b) continues to apply as if Schedule 6 to the Act were not in force.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This is the third Commencement Order made under the Consumer Rights Act 2015 (c. 15) (“the Act”) that extends to the United Kingdom.

Certain provisions came into force in accordance with section 100 of the Act, on the passing of the Act or two months after the passing of the Act. The Consumer Rights Act 2015 (Commencement)(England) Order 2015 (S.I. 2015/965) brought certain provisions into force on 27th May 2015 in relation to England only. The Consumer Rights Act 2015 (Commencement No. 1) Order 2015 (S.I. 2015/1333) brought certain provisions into force on 27th May 2015 in relation to the United Kingdom. The Consumer Rights Act 2015 (Commencement No. 2 and Transitional Provision)(England) Order 2015 (S.I. 2015/1575) brought certain provisions into force on 1st September 2015 in relation to England only. The Consumer Rights Act 2015 (Commencement No. 2) Order 2015 (S.I. 2015/1584) brought certain provisions into force on 3rd August 2015 in relation to the United Kingdom. The Consumer Rights Act 2015 (Commencement No. 1 and Transitional Provision) (Wales) Order 2015 (S.I. 2015/1605) brought certain provisions into force on 1st September 2015 in relation to Wales only.

Article 3 lists the provisions of the Act which will come into force on 1st October 2015. This Order brings into force Part 1 of the Act on consumer contracts for goods, digital content and services, Part 2 of the Act on unfair terms and Chapter 1 of Part 3 of the Act on enforcement etc., so far as not yet in force.

Article 4 provides for a later commencement date of 6th April 2016 with respect to Chapter 4 of Part 1 (Services) of the Act together with certain amendments to the Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977 provided for in Schedule 4 to the Act, in relation to consumer transport services in the rail, aviation and maritime sectors.

Article 5 gives effect to the Schedules to the Order which specify amendments to secondary legislation.

Articles 6 to 8 make transitional provisions in respect of the changes introduced by the Act and the consequential amendments set out in the Schedules to this Order.

Schedule 1 makes amendments to secondary legislation in consequence of Parts 1 and 2 and Chapter 5 of Part 3 of the Act.

Schedule 2 makes amendments to secondary legislation in consequence of Schedule 5 to the Act, which introduces a new generic set of investigatory powers. The amendments remove existing investigatory powers, or references to these powers, from secondary legislation which are no longer required following the introduction of Schedule 5 to the Act.

Impact assessments completed for the Consumer Rights Bill, introduced to Parliament on 23rd January 2014, contain an assessment of the effect that the reforms to the framework of consumer rights will have on the costs of business and the public and voluntary sector and can be found at the website: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/consumer-rights-bill>.
